10. OPTIONAL PROVISIONS

Within this business the overall goal and reason of its conception is for educational and informative purposes. Between the two main parties of this LLC there is an educational background in culinary arts, digital creation and extensive experience in travel and all affairs encompassing a nomadic lifestyle.
After seeing how purchasing a house may be out of reach for so many modern Americans, we hope to rebrand the American dream and breathe a breath of fresh air into homeownership no matter the aesthetic or function of a living space.
We hope so show anyone willing to give us their time, how life can become sustainable on the move and goals for a financially stable future require only patience, consistency and discipline.
Along the way we plan to educate the public regarding varying cuisines, where to obtain the best and or price friendly ingredients (which will update as often as the market fluctuates), how to prepare and store a plethora of food items and lastly but not limited to consuming and describing the partnership of ingredients and their cohesiveness with one another for an enhanced dining experience.
In addition, we plan to provide a thorough rundown of many of the operating systems within our spaces, including essential businesses that provide services which assist in keeping all functions operational. This content is meant to be informative and will be broken down into user friendly laymans terms so each and every viewer will be able to easily participate and actively follow along.
Regarding travel it is the intent for our LLC to bring knowledge of the Pacific Northwest, specifically Oregon, to viewers. Not just obvious locations like waterfalls and the urban city of Portland, but our goal is to show the small businesses that keep Oregon alive and thriving. Our focus is on showing people that helping the little guy goes a long way and our mission is to create a desire for folks to travel to the west coast. With that said it will create great potential for tourism which in turn will help by boosting the local economy, in theory.
We intend to show the truth about the beautiful state of Oregon, where to go and where to avoid, we hope to be a beacon of light to any new and or weary traveler. It is integral in our modern day to not just highlight all the loud, bright and bustling tourist attractions but our goal is to also amplify the less traveled paths, sharing our wisdom and love of Oregon with tourists to behold is an honor we hope to achieve with this LLC.
In summary, it is our purpose to share the aura of Oregon with as many souls as we can reach and we hope to bring visitors based off sharing our culinary knowledge, travel experience and with it all packaged in a fantastically digestible digital format for all viewers to enjoy.
