OWLS Honors Leaders at Roberts-Deiz Dinner

By Rose Alappat

Five hundred people gathered on March 8 to celebrate the recipients of the 21st annual Justice Betty Roberts and Judge Mercedes Deiz Awards.

The Justice Betty Roberts Award was presented to the Honorable Jean Kerr Maurer of the Multnomah County Circuit Court, and the Judge Mercedes Deiz Award was presented to Julia E. Markley, a partner at Perkins Coie in Portland.

The sold-out Roberts-Deiz Dinner, held for the second year at the Nines Hotel in Portland, was immediately preceded by the ever-popular OWLS Foundation silent auction. OWLS members and friends enjoyed the venue while socializing and placing bids.

During dinner, OWLS President Megan Livermore thanked the dinner sponsors, including title sponsor Paulson Coletti Trial Attorneys, and recognized the distinguished judges, political leaders, and guests in attendance.

Simon Whang presented the Judge Mercedes Deiz Award to Julia Markley. The Judge Mercedes Deiz Award recognizes an individual who has made an outstanding contribution to promoting minorities in the legal profession and the community. The long-standing, collegial relationship between Simon and Julia was apparent in Simon's energetic, humorous, and sincere tribute to Julia.

Simon praised Julia's many professional accomplishments, including founding the Oregon Asian Pacific American Bar Association (OAPABA), which now includes over 170 members. In addition to her work with a variety of minority organizations, Julia has also served on several judicial selection committees and actively promotes diversity in her law firm. Julia remembered attending her first Roberts-Deiz Awards Dinner and her first convention for the National Asian Pacific American Bar Association (NAPABA). The experiences inspired her to become involved with OWLS and minority associations, including OAPABA.

Julia also acknowledged the people who have guided her professional success, including Paul Hirose, a senior counsel at Perkins Coie and former president of NAPABA, who showed her, among other things, the proper way to exchange business cards. At the end of her speech, Julia thanked her family and invited her two children to join her on stage to "get out their wiggles," no doubt an experience all three will remember for a while.

Next, Sanam (Sam) Dowlatdad presented the Justice Betty

Roberts Award to Judge Jean Kerr Maurer. The Justice Betty Roberts Award recognizes an individual who has made an outstanding contribution to promoting women in the legal profession and the community. Sam emphasized her appreciation for Judge Maurer's professional guidance and personal friendship over the years, which has included providing advice during career transitions and officiating at Sam's wedding.

In addition to her informal role mentoring women in the legal profession, Judge Maurer also participates in several legal organizations, including the Gender Fairness Task Force of the Oregon Supreme Court and the OWLS Queen's Bench Board of Directors.

When discussing the role of a mentor, Judge Maurer recalled her failed attempt to join her school's cheerleading squad. Although she did not make the squad, watching it did leave an impression. Judge Maurer compared mentoring to cheerleading—it is about providing support and encouragement.

She left the audience with some parting advice: "Be yourselves. Do what you're good at. Work hard." It's good advice, which both Julia and Judge Maurer seem to have followed.

Rose Alappat is a corporate attorney at Perkins Coie in Portland.
