RULE SUMMARY

These rules implement HB 2219 by eliminating licensing examination fees, establishing consistent terminology for "application" and "renewal" fees and adjusting without increasing fee amounts to reflect the new 3-year licensing cycles. These rules also correct the electrical and elevator contractor license term, which was overlooked during HB 2181 license consistency rules implementation in October 2006.

These rules further implement HB 2548 by creating the Reciprocating Conveyor Mechanic and Restricted Reciprocating Conveyor Mechanic licensing requirements, license terms, and definitions for reciprocating conveyors.
