Dear Neil,

Now you're really famous! First the Wall St. Journal, now the Cardinal Times. The entire staff thanks you (& your speech-writer - I think it was Lee Weinstein) for this "exclusive" from the Governor. I think it carries a valuable message that I hope will affect everyone who read it. Keep an eye on my mom while she's working in Salem!

Thanks again,

Elen Scott

Neil,

Attached is a note from Ellen along with the newspaper containing your article. She is having a great time with the paper, was just elected co-editor. In addition to reporting (be sure to read the front page story on the J-B program - that's neat for Oregon), she does all the political cartoons. No question, she's having a great senior year.

Thanks to Lee for his help.

Press Release

A huge expansion plan was announced today by Phil Wick, President of the Les Schwab Warehouse Center and of the 200 Les Schwab Tire Centers. "We are going to add 246,000 square feet to our warehousing in Prineville," Wick said. The new warehouses will cover five acres of new warehouse space.

"We have been working on these plans for the past two years," Wick reported. "We have considered building in Wilsonville, Portland, Vancouver, Longview, or Kent. We could save a lot of money with our trucking expenses, if we centered or built these additional warehouses in the Portland area. However, we decided on Prineville, as we want to, as long as possible, keep our main distribution and retreading center in one place. Besides, we think Prineville is a great place to live and raise our families." The Les Schwab companies have 360 employees in Prineville and 2,700 employees in total.

Wick said, "We have bought 20 acres across Crooked River. We are planning to bridge Crooked River. We plan to build one large warehouse of 210,000 square feet across the river. Construction will start just as fast as we can get our permits and as we can put every thing together. We plan to have a completion date of July 1, 1989, as our target date. We are very pleased that our final decision was to build this in Prineville."

Warehousing is needed for the planned growth for the future. Les Schwab is planning ten new stores for 1989, with three additional stores to be added to the California stores. Lots were recently purchased in Redding, Anderson, and Red Bluff. These stores will be built in 1989 Wick said. Further expansion is planned down to and including the Sacramento area.

Dear Ms. Schwark:

Your recent letter asking about crime and livability in Oregon expressed a concern which is certainly at the top of my list as well as that of most other Oregonians.

Oregon, along with many other states, has had a growing crime rate during the past several years, particularly in property crimes and drug-related offenses. I must also point out that while our state's crime rate appears to be somewhat high when compared to other states, Oregonians are far more likely to report criminal offenses to law enforcement officials than citizens of other states.

We are now aggressively addressing our crime problems on several fronts:

- Adoption of legislation allowing confiscation of criminals' assets, expanding the ability of law enforcement officials to gather evidence in drug cases, and attacking juvenile crime.
- Developing a statewide "Children's Agenda" which promotes grass roots commitment by schools, parents, service providers and others to ensure that Oregon's children are educated and nurtured with the idea that crime is unacceptable in our communities.
- Construction of 2,500 new prison beds between 1987 and 1991.
- Development of a statewide program to identify and prosecute repeat offenders, based upon an award-winning program in Lane County, Oregon.
- Adoption of determinate sentencing guidelines based primarily upon the offenders' criminal history.
- Consolidation of responsibility for coordination of crime prevention efforts, information systems, and other criminal justice services in a new Criminal Justice Services Division.

Schwark

Ms. Kathie Schwark
June 12, 1989

- Acquisition of new automated fingerprint identification technology and modernization of other statewide criminal justice information programs.

As a result of these actions, we anticipate a significant reduction in the incidents of crime in our state.

A member of my staff recently read your letter to a conference of two hundred representatives from local, state and federal criminal justice agencies throughout Oregon. The most common response from members of this group was "...yes, we do have crime problems, but we also believe we have the most livable state. Please ask her to come and see for herself."

I would like to invite you and your family to come and visit us before making your decision. I am confident that wherever you go--to the beautiful Oregon Coast, to the exciting and growing Portland Metropolitan area, the forested mountains, the eastern desert or the rich Willamette Valley--you will not be disappointed and will be welcomed by all Oregonians.

Sincerely,

Dear Dr. Schwartz:

I am writing to support the application of Floyd McKay for a position in journalism education, and to commend him to you.

Floyd joined my staff in December of 1986, shortly after I was elected governor, and was instrumental in putting together my staff, and preparing my first legislative package. He was one of two top aides reporting directly to me until his departure in December, 1988.

When I asked Floyd to leave one of Oregon's top news positions to enter my administration, I had already known him and his work for many years. He was Portland's premier television journalist and commentator during the time I served on the Portland city council and as mayor, from 1970 to 1979.

Floyd's reputation during that time was as a journalist who had the ability to look ahead and see emerging issues, and to analyze the work of public agencies in a way that was understandable to a large television audience. He had credibility both in the media and with Oregonians that is seldom rivalled. I sought his judgment and his ability to communicate with all types of people.

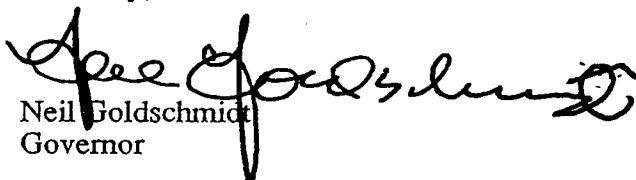

The first two years of a new administration are always difficult, and Floyd took charge of both my press office and my legislative liaison office, as well as handling many communications with Oregon communities. His mature judgement and honesty were respected by my entire staff. He often served as my personal emissary to Oregon communities.

I believe his unique background of television and newspaper experience, two years in this office and then his experience at the East-West Center give him a background you will find difficult to match. I knew when Floyd agreed to join my staff that he would not easily leave his lifelong career in journalism, and although I was sorry when he announced his plans to leave I understood that it was to return to his real calling.

Dr. Howard Schwartz
November 21, 1989

In working with younger staff, and in dealing with state agencies and with communities, I have been impressed with Floyd's ability to communicate and to teach. I hope you will take advantage of his unique skills, background and integrity. Please do not hesitate to call if you wish additional comments.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Scott:

My apologies for taking so long to respond to you. When the Governor returned from his trip, he presented me with your coupon, told me to find some time when he could take the raft trip, and threatened me with possible bodily harm if I were to lose the certificate you presented to him.

Knowing how much he wanted to take this trip, I kept it at my desk so I would be aware of possible dates when it could occur. Unfortunately, with the closing of the legislature, the Governor has been in the process of reviewing over 600 bills and no opportunity immediately presented itself. Now, as you may have read in the paper, he has undergone surgery on his shoulder, and it appears that rafting is not going to be an activity approved by his physician for some time.

Since this gift was so important to Neil, I hope that we can continue to hold the gift certificate you presented to him for some time in the future. (You can be sure that I won't lose track of it!) Please let me know if this presents a problem for you.

Dear 8th Grade Students:

I am pleased and proud to congratulate you upon graduation from the eighth grade at Buena Crest Elementary School.

As Oregonians, we're fortunate to enjoy an abundance of natural resources, such as our trees, rivers, and farmlands--but you, as young Oregonians, are the most precious and the very best of those resources.

Often, you've probably heard parents and teachers say that you have potential, and this word is just another way of saying that we think you're terrific. You have a chance to develop yourselves into teenagers and adults who will be good people in our society. Your education at Buena Crest has started you toward this goal, and I hope you continue wisely through high school and beyond.

We use this graduation ceremony to talk about your past and future achievements. It is also a good time to think about the many people who have helped you to reach this important occasion, and I hope you take the time to thank them for their assistance. Your family, a special teacher, your best friend--these individuals obviously influenced you, and Oregon is a better place because they shared their time and talents with you.

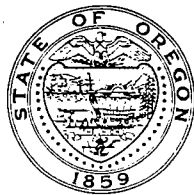

Again, my heartiest congratulations to the students, and my deepest appreciation to those who have guided them so well. You make Oregon special, and I'm proud of all of you.

STATE OF OREGON

PROCLAMATION

- WHEREAS: From the earliest territorial days, Oregonians have taken great pride in their voluntary efforts to participate in all civic concerns; and
- WHEREAS: Search and rescue is one of the most humane of all services rendered by Oregonians; and
- WHEREAS: Search and rescue volunteers save lives, bring emergency medical aid to remote areas, and assist and cooperate in large coordinated missions; and
- WHEREAS: These volunteers always bring hope and help, oftentimes at personal risk and frequently at the sacrifice of regular employment hours; and
- WHEREAS: The Jeep Search and Rescue volunteers hold their national gathering in Grants Pass, June 8-11, 1989; and
- WHEREAS: It is fitting that the State of Oregon recognize the generous, selfless contributions made by Jeep Search and Rescue volunteers in both our state and throughout the rest of the nation.

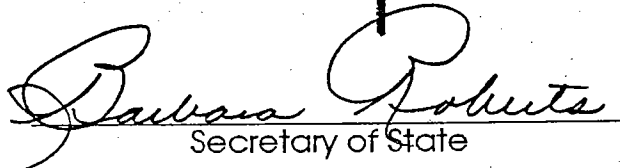

NOW,
THEREFORE, I, Neil Goldschmidt, Governor of the State of Oregon, hereby proclaim June 4-11, 1989, as

SEARCH AND RESCUE WEEK

in Oregon and encourage all citizens to join gratefully in this observance.

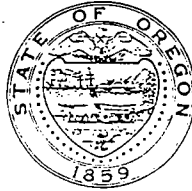

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I hereunto set my hand and cause the Great Seal of the State of Oregon to be affixed. Done at the Capitol in the City of Salem and the State of Oregon, on this day, May 25, 1989.

Dear Captain Scott:

Thank you for sending us more information for Search and Rescue Week in Oregon. Enclosed please find your official document for June 4-11, 1989.

I apologize for not getting this proclamation to you earlier. We have had an unusually heavy work load this May, which has been made even worse with colds and flu.

If you want a similar proclamation for a special week for search and rescue next year, please notify us in writing at least two weeks before you want the proclamation. We'll be happy to work with you again.

Everyone here thinks you're a terrific group. Other countries pay people to help those in trouble; in the United States, and especially in Oregon, we volunteer. Even so, I hope I never have to use your services!

Please let me know if I can be of further assistance.

Best wishes for June 4-11.

Dear Margaret,
We'll all miss
Maggie — we loved and respected her —
But above all, we enjoyed her humor
spirit and laughter.

Thank you for helping Maggie & I stay close. You stay in touch, too.
Love You

The Honorable Neil Goldschmidt
Governor of Oregon
Salem, Oregon

Dear Neil:

I understand that you and my sister, Andrea Bushnell, recently met at a function just before the holidays. I'm glad the opportunity arose.

Notice about the Winter NGA conference in Washington, DC arrived in our office this week. If you are planning on attending, I'd be pleased to stop by the conference site to visit with you for a few moments. I'm always glad to hear news of Oregon.

The Chamber's International Division published a book on Europe 1992 late last year and is drawing up plans to facilitate U.S. business opportunities in Eastern Europe. Both projects have made interesting work.

I hear NIKE is doing great these days, and I've read recently about Portland's exemplary programs in international trade development and education.

Best wishes in 1990!

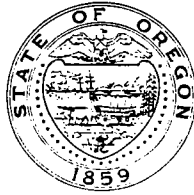

Most Sincerely,

Cammie

Dear Iris:

It has come to my attention that you will be retiring the end of this month. I have also been informed about your loyalty and dedication to the job.

Since you started with the state over nineteen years ago, you have served the state well. It is employees like you that make the "system" work. Your dedication has not been unnoticed by your fellow employees or management. I know that they will miss you greatly.

Iris, I want to thank you for your dedication over the past years and wish you well in the future.

Sincerely,

Neil Goldschmidt

Dear President Sekimoto:

Thank you very much for your letter in December and my apologies for being so late in replying. The time for preparation for my beginning legislative session and the new year seized many working days.

I was very impressed with the Fortune Magazine profile on NEC in the United States. We are very proud of NEC's progress in the state of Oregon and pleased that others are beginning to recognize the fine quality efforts you are making here. Your interest in a possible relationship between Toyama prefecture and the state of Oregon is most appreciated. We hope that a business group will be visiting there soon to learn more about it.

My best wishes for a happy New Year.

Sincerely,

Neil Goldschmidt
Governor

Mr. Neil Goldschmidt
Governor of the State of Oregon

Dear Governor Goldschmidt:

It has been a little over one year since I met you at our head office in Tokyo. Although I could not have the privilege of seeing you during your trip this time, I would like to introduce one of my most valuable friends to you by this letter.

His name is Mr. Yutaka Nakaoki, governor of Toyama prefecture. Toyama is located to the northwest of Tokyo with a population of about one million. We have a manufacturing subsidiary, named NEC Toyama, Ltd., which operates one of the world's largest plants for printed circuit boards in Nyuzen-machi, Toyama.

With regard to our relationship with the State of Oregon, I am pleased to inform you that our three year-old Hillsboro plant is in the process of doubling its floor space by April 1, 1989. It is our great honor that our Hillsboro plant has been favorably accepted as a good corporate citizen in the local community. For your reading pleasure, I am enclosing a reprint of the Fortune magazine article outlining our activities in Oregon and else where in the U.S.

NEC Toyama Ltd. has been maintaining an engineer exchange program with Techtronics Inc. in Forest Globe, since the summer of 1985. It represents our efforts to link the State of Oregon and Toyama prefecture across the Pacific.

I would be delighted if NEC Corporation could help deepen a mutually beneficial relationship between these two most beautiful and prosperous states, capitalizing on our close-tie relationship with both the State of Oregon and the Toyama Prefecture.

Sincerely yours,

Tadahiro Sekimoto

Dear Governor Goldschmidt,

My wife and I were involved in a pleasant incident with an Oregon state vehicle just a few weeks ago and I thought you would be pleased to hear about it. On Wednesday evening April 19th my wife and I were driving along I-5 from Grants Pass towards Medford. We passed the state owned vehicle driven, presumably, by a state employee and as we passed the vehicle a sign was held up saying "Please Buckle Up I Care". I asked my wife if she had her seatbelt on and she did not, I of course, I had mine on at that time. She then put her seatbelt on (as we do normally drive with our seatbelts on) and then the state vehicle sped up a little bit and passed us and held up a sign saying "Thank You For Buckling Up I Care".

We both got a big kick out of it and felt really good and warm about it as it was just an over sight on my wifes part that she was not bukled up and we just thought it epitomized Oregon that this kind of thing could only happen in Oregon. Once again it is just one of the little things that make us proud and happy to be Orgonions and generally proud and happy the way our state employees relate to the people for whom they work.

Best wishes from the Illinos Valley, our wine industry here is prospering, to some extent through your support, and Suzie David seems to be doing fine and we all thank you for the help that you gave her and the interest that you showed in her situation.

Best Personal regards
