STEPABLES and All-Terrain Foot Traffic

Share 4

Under A Foot Plant Company invented the concept that plants could be walked on regularly in the garden, and actually performed better when walked upon. We have spent years and years determining the degree to which plants can take foot traffic and invented a model of degree for each plant we sell.

Tip: It's all about the stonework! Using stones will allow you to choose almost all of our plants. Large stones allow the stone to take the brunt of the foot traffic, not the plant. Conversely, the smaller the stone, the more the plant will suffer the contact and therefore a heavy foot traffic plant is in order.

Light Foot Traffic Plants

All Terrain Ground Covers provide a way to create a lawn alternative area by using larger plants in areas traditionally left for grass. Number colors and textures can be added to create color all year long.

Light Foot Traffic

Use STEPABLES as a Lawn Substitution instead of grass for that charming "grass-like appearance" with the added benefit of color when your STEPABLES become living carpets of color.

Moderate Foot Traffic Plants

All Terrain Ground Cover Meadows can become a naturalizing haven for bees, butterflies and hummingbirds! Mix and Match and watch your meadow grow!

Moderate Foot Traffic

Light Foot Traffic Plants can be minimally walked on. Use in areas where foot traffic is once a week: Taking out the trash

Heavy Foot Traffic Plants

STEPABLE Meadows are areas when you let nature takes its course. Plant numbers colors and textures to give your new meadow that airy, wispy feeling!
