Prospective Purchaser Agreements: The Importance of PPAs When Purchasing Contaminated Oregon Properties

Mar 16, 2023 | By Jeff C. Miller | From the Ground Up, Environmental

Purchasers of contaminated property are often familiar with obtaining a Phase I Environmental Site Assessment (ESA) in the hopes of maintaining the CERCLA bona fide prospective purchaser defense, but sometimes they overlook the fact that Oregon offers...

In the Contract or Out of the Contract? Payment Claims for Extra Work in Oregon

Feb 27, 2023 | By D. Gary Christensen | From the Ground Up, Construction, Legal Developments...

When a contractor performs "extra" work—more than its construction contract contemplates—how can it be paid? A common question, indeed. And one that usually is easily answered with a change order or extra work directive. But what if the change order...
